Few Freshmen Take Seats In Next Congress

Several Lawmakers Making Comeback

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Only 62 members of the new senate and house convening next January will be congressional freshmen in the true sense of the word. Although 64 new senators and representatives were elected last Tuesday, 14 of those chosen for the house and 8 for the senate have had previous congressional experience.

Smallest In Years
The new crop of house members constitutes one of the smallest groups of freshmen, even including those with past service, in recent years. The present Congress started out with more than 100 new house members alone.

Eight of the new senators have served in the house. The same number went from the house to the senate two years ago. New senators-elect who cut their legislative eye-teeth in the house are George Smathers of Florida, Thomas C. Hennings, jr., of Mis-

Williams Pulls Into Lead For Governor As Errors Show Up

DETROIT—(AP)—Governor G. Mennen Williams, 39-year-old Democrat first term, edged into a lead of about 400 votes today as a barrage of election errors and revisions by county canvassers cut the lead of Republican Harry F. Kelly.

Counters Give Up
On the basis of the actual tabulation of semi-official and official returns from the counties Williams had a margin of 117 votes.

However, due to a peculiar method of tabulating the unofficial returns in Detroit the exact margin could not be determined. Unofficial election counters in Detroit long ago gave up attempting to keep totals for the two candidates.

Instead, they began revising their figures as changes were found on the basis of how they affected Kelly's lead.

Errors Big Question
Thus Williams appeared to have a net gain of approximately 186 votes over the actual state-wide tabulation. The actual tabulation gave Williams 934,028 votes to 933,671 for Kelly.

All precincts in the state were reported either unofficially or semi-officially, but the major question mark in the count lay in the number of errors being discovered as the county canvassing boards went to work across the state.

More Confusion
With the count so close and the margin of error so apparent in some areas a recount became a virtual certainty. However, neither Williams nor Kelly was ready to decide until the official canvass is completed about 20 days from now.

A further confusing factor was the fact that the entire vote in Republican Plymouth township of Wayne county may be invalid. This would cost Kelly 282 more votes.

Arthur L. Robbins, chief of the prosecutor's civil division said Democrats charged that the township election board did not require voters to sign ballot applications before voting.

Williams gained such chunks of votes as 675 in a correction in Easton county, while Kelly gained 551 in the same county.

County Totals Change
Williams picked up 100 votes in Isabella county while Kelly was gaining only one.

In Livingston the totals of both were reduced, Kelly by 361 and

World Awaits Action Of UN In War Crisis

Chinese Put 300,000 Troops On Border

(By The Associated Press)

SEOUL — (AP) — The Allies forged a steel band across North Korea's narrow waist today with the linkup of U. S. Tenth corps forces from the east and Eighth Army elements from the west.

AP Correspondent William Jordan reported the linkup was made southeast of Tokchon, in north-central Korea. It came as Chinese Communists just north of the Manchurian border continued their ominous buildup of troops—now reported at some 300,000.

Hiding In Mountains
Other Chinese Red forces already in Korea, estimated at about 60,000 were withdrawing into far North Korea's wooded mountain fastness under constant lashing by Allied air power.

U. S. planes hit ten Russian-built tanks and Red transport southeast of the border.

Bombers and jet fighters carrying half-ton bombs smashed at Red supply lines near and south of the Yalu river boundary of Communist Manchuria.

American and Red jet fighters engaged in two flashing chases near the major Red crossing point—the northwest border town of Sinuiju. No losses on either side were reported.

Vehicles Destroyed

U. S. jets destroyed eight enemy tanks and damaged two in Red territory south of Sinuiju. Twenty-five trucks and other vehicles were destroyed and seven trucks damaged.

The puzzling lull in the ground action continued into its fifth day. There was only patrol action and minor skirmishing.

Inland from the east coast, the U. S. Marines observed the 175th anniversary of the corps by rolling onto a plateau to within three miles of the vital Changjin power dam. It was a gain of six

Woman Picked For High Post

Mrs. Rosenberg Will Aid Gen. Marshall

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg of New York has been recommended by Secretary of Defense Marshall for the highest post ever held by a woman in the military branch of the government—assistant secretary of defense.

Mrs. Rosenberg has yet to be appointed by President Truman and confirmed by the Senate. A defense department announcement indicated, however, that both of these developments are considered a certainty. It said:

"Mrs. Rosenberg, in addition to performing the duties of assistant secretary of defense, will specialize in matter relating to manpower and personnel policy, both subjects in which she is an acknowledged authority."

She would succeed Paul H. Griffith, a former national commander of the American Legion. Griffith resigned his defense department post last September after President Truman dropped Louis Johnson from the cabinet office now held by Gen. Marshall.

Griffith was a Johnson appointee. Griffith has accepted vice presidency of Allied Public Relations Associates, a New York firm.

Mrs. Rosenberg has served in a number of high-level government positions since 1935, including posts as regional director of the NRA, the Social Security administration, and the war manpower commission.

Born in Budapest, Hungary, she came to the United States in 1912 and was naturalized in 1919. She is 48.

Tibet Appeals For Aid Of UN

Nothing New Heard Of Red Invasion

NEW DELHI, India — (AP) — Tibet today was reliably reported to have appealed to the United Nations for aid and intervention against the invading Chinese Communists.

Reliable sources here, who refused to be identified by name, said the appeal had been made directly to the U. N.

(No word of the Tibetan appeal had been reported from U. N. headquarters in Lake Success early today).

The report received here said the Tibetan appeal was made on Nov. 8. It was not indicated through what channel the appeal was made from the remote Himalayan land.

The Indian foreign ministry said it had not received any direct report from the government of Tibet's 16-year-old ruler, the Dalai Lama, of such an appeal.

The foreign ministry said also they had heard of no change in the military situation since the message received yesterday from India's representative in Lhasa, the Tibetan capital, which said the Chinese Red force that had captured Chamdo—on the Himalayan country's eastern border—was marching southward.

Cohen Can't Sell His $16,000 Armored Car

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Apparently Mickey Cohen has not been able to sell the $16,000 bullet-proof Cadillac he was advertising recently.

The gambler sued the California highway patrol yesterday seeking permission to use the car, which has stood in the garage since it was armored several months ago. Superior court ordered the patrol commissioner to issue a permit or to show cause Nov. 29 why not.

The patrol denied Cohen a permit on the grounds armored cars are for use only of police officers and money trucks. Cohen told the court he had been advised by members of the Los Angeles police department to get the car.

Gale Spreads Fire In San Bernardino As Hundreds Flee

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. — (AP)—Fire fanned by a 50-mile wind raced through a sparsely-settled residential district in the foothills on the city's north edge today, forcing hundreds of residents to flee.

Firemen said they thought they had the blaze controlled after a four-hour fight, but in the confusion could not give an accurate estimate of the number of homes destroyed.

It had varied during the early morning from "dozens" to "hundreds" to six, police said.

The fire department reported 14 men injured as a result of the flames and the high winds. Most of them suffered face cuts and eye injuries from flying debris and cinders.

All were given emergency treatment, and none of the injuries was described as serious.

So fierce was the wind that the paint was blasted off one U. S. forest service truck.

Sand blew in great clouds through narrow Cajon Pass, which leads through the San Bernardino mountains to the Mojave desert.

Police estimated that nearly 300 persons were evacuated from the region and given refuge in a school. Most of them had time to don street clothes, although a few could be seen in bathrobes.

Residents, many in night dress, grabbed garden hoses to wet down roofs. Fire officials said typical California stucco construction, largely fireproof, and the fact that many homes have tile roofs undoubtedly kept the loss from mounting.

Changes Asked In Game Laws

Writers Seek Fishing Permit At Escanaba

LANSING—(AP)—A suggestion for a new law to allow non-residents to carry guns out of season in Michigan game areas by special permit was turned aside yesterday by the state conservation commission.

Present law requires non-residents to have a $15 small game license to carry their guns in game areas any time during the year.

The commission planned further consideration of a list of other law changes the department staff suggested. If they are approved finally at next month's commission meeting, they will be presented to the legislature.

Proposals include opening hunting seasons in Northern Michigan on the Saturday nearest the present opening days. Permitting reciprocal fishing agreements with Ontario, giving the commission discretionary powers over deer regulations, requiring guns in cars to be cased, broken down or carried in trunks, and redefining the crime of deer "shining."

A representative of the Michigan Outdoors Writers Association asking the commission to approve the issuance of complimentary non-resident fishing licenses to members of the Outdoors Writers Association of America who will hold their annual convention at Escanaba in July.

William Bowen, 45, said he was awakened in his fourth floor apartment by the thick smoke and flames which swept through the five-story Dornell apartment hotel.

He awakened his wife, Wanda, 42, their three-month-old daughter, Judy; his mother, Mrs. Jennie C. Bowen 74, and his aunt, Mrs. Mary Bower, 70, and led them to the automatic elevator.

About 20 persons were carried down ladders by firemen.

Unions Protest Klan Violence

Carolina Tobacco Farmers Whipped

CONWAY, S. C. — (AP)—Leaders of 22 unions have appealed to the federal government to halt Ku Klux Klan violence in South Carolina's tobacco country.

Union officials in both South Carolina and North Carolina yesterday telegraphed U. S. Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath for immediate action to prevent further night-ride disorders.

Their action followed the disclosure by officers that Ku Kluxers had bullwhipped a bed-ridden white farmer and forced his two sons to run a quarter of a mile in their underwear.

Officers said the masked and robed Klansmen forced their way Tuesday night into the home of 52-year-old Rufus Lee, roused him from his sick bed, drove him off in an automobile, and then whipped him.

Lee said one of the mob told him: "You drink too much."

Lee's two sons, Hinson, 18, and Coolidge, a 23-year-old war veteran, were made to run from the house in their underclothes, but were not otherwise molested.

The father was painfully but not seriously hurt.

Phone Workers Use Hit-And-Run Strategy In Their Strike Today

DETROIT—(AP)—Michigan's 16,000 erstwhile striking telephone workers—all but a reported few—went back to work today in a sudden shift of strategy.

How long they would stay at the switchboards of Michigan Bell and other company jobs, however, was a question.

The return to work signaled the adoption of a so-called "hit and run" policy by the striking CIO Communications Workers Union.

At the same time the company was represented as welcoming the strikers back to the job. A management spokesman said Michigan Bell was "glad" the workers were returning.

This was an evident management policy in respect to an acknowledged need to keep a public utility in operation.

The union's strategy—similar to its "quick strike" system of two years ago, was an overnight development in the wage fight.

Walter Schaar, president of CWA's division 15 in Michigan, disclosed early today what he referred to as the strikers' "hit and run" policy.

"We are operating," Schaar said, "on a hit and run basis."

"This means that the people may leave the job at unexpected moments and return when not expected."

Schaar said it was the union's "answer to the problem of dealing with a robot." His reference, he said, was to Michigan Bell's mechanized operation.

He said all workers except a particular group in Detroit were ordered back at 6 a. m. today.

"What happens on Saturday is something else again," he said.

The union and Michigan Bell have been unable to agree on wages. One $3 to $5 weekly increase offer was rejected by the union.

Also in dispute, the union said, are wage differentials between cities and the length of contract term.

Wages in Michigan Bell are said by the union to range from a starting pay of $29 a week for operators in small towns up to $53 after eight years work in Detroit.

Craftsmen's pay ranges up to $85 weekly. In addition to 8,000 switchboard operators, the union includes installers and other workers.

Ford Layoffs May Hit 14,000

Slump In Production Of Steel Blamed

DETROIT — (AP) — Company and union leaders came up today with sharply different explanations of the Ford Motor company's projected layoffs of 14,000 workers.

Ford said earlier this week the layoffs would be necessary partly because of steel shortages, but did not set a date.

Carl Stellato, president of Ford Local 600 of the CIO United Auto Workers, said the steel shortage can be blamed on the company's giving up "any pretense toward human engineering" in the steel rolling mill.

Ford Vice-President John S. Bugas retorted that Stellato "cannot get the members of his union who work in our rolling mills to live up to the contract."

Bugas said there had been an "illegal strike in the forefront of October and a continuing slowdown" of production in the rolling mill.

He said in a statement he had wired UAW-CIO President Walter P. Reuther that the situation was "extremely serious."

In any event, the Senate seemed in no mood to confirm the batch of Williams' appointees who have been kept dangling for months awaiting the outcome of the election.

Two Plums Waiting
The most important political plums involved are chairman John H. McCarthy of the state public service commission and David M. Martin, Democratic member of the state liquor control commission.

If the appointees are not confirmed, or if the legislature adjourns without acting on them, they are all out of a job and their positions are open for appointment by the next governor.

The continued recessing act of the legislature is holding up the effectiveness of two laws—one benefiting grape growers and fixing the price of wines and the other the Little bill to regulate auto purchase financing.

Since neither was given immediate effect they cannot become effective until 90 days after the final adjournment of the legislature.

Election Mixup Has Lawmakers Puzzled

LANSING, Mich. — (AP)—House and Senate Republicans today scheduled caucuses to make a decision on setting a final adjournment date for the legislature or continuing the long recess.

Both houses convened for routine sessions at noon, but recessed almost immediately.

Uncertainty over the winner in Tuesday's governorship election had the legislature puzzled.

If Harry F. Kelly is to be governor in the next two years, the Republican-dominated legislature can adjourn and go home, happy at having blocked more than two dozen of Governor Williams' appointees.

If Williams should turn out to be the winner the lawmakers wonder whether the better course would be to have adjourned or to have recessed again as they have been doing since June.

That appeared to be the only issue facing the lawmakers when they assembled at noon.

Appointments Up In Air
Sentiment was strong — until Kelly's lead slipped—to adjourn and end the session which started last January.

But Owen J. Cleary, chairman of the Republican state central committee, sent word that the legislature should hold itself available. He implied that the G.O.P. lawmakers might need their undivided value still if Williams ended up the winner or if the narrow victory and possible recount required any legal action.

The decision must be thrashed out after all members are assembled and have time to assess the situation.

In any event, the Senate seemed in no mood to confirm the batch of Williams' appointees who have been kept dangling for months awaiting the outcome of the election.

Convicts Escape At Ski Project

Trusties Walk Away At Iron Mountain

Two trustees transferred to the Iron Mountain ski project from Southern Michigan prison, Jackson, walked away from the Iron Mountain camp last night.

They are Edward Trimmer, Kal-amazoo, serving a 7½ to 15 year term for breaking and entering in 1944, and Everett Adams, Wayne county, serving a two-to-five-year term for auto theft. They were discovered missing this morning.

Both Trimmer, 32, and Adams, 29, are two-time convicts. Trimmer would have been eligible for parole in one year and Adams in four months. They were staying at the Pine Mountain lodge.

No general alarm has been issued, although state police have been notified, along with other law enforcement authorities in Michigan and Wisconsin.

The two convicts had volunteered to come to the Marquette prison honor camp when the project was completed Dec. 1.

Trimmer is five feet, eight inches tall and weighs 160 pounds. Adams is six feet tall. Weighs 170 pounds and has a dark complexion.

New Equipment Delivered Here

City Uses Crane To Clean Catch-basins

A new two-ton truck equipped with utility crane this week was put in service by the city of Escanaba, cleaning storm sewer catch basins.

The crane, with orange-peel type bucket, cleans catch basins about three times as fast as two men could do the work. Refuse from the basins is handled only once, the crane lifting leaves and other debris from the basins and loading directly into the truck.

The new piece of equipment, another step in the city's modernization program, also will be used for hoisting pipe, loading materials and in tree planting.

Storm sewer basins are cleaned twice a year here, in fall and spring. Previously workers had to "scoop-out" leaves, sand, etc., from the basins. Debris was piled on the street and then later shoveled into trucks.

The crane enables the city to clean catch basins quicker and cheaper," A. V. Aronson, manager reports.

The parks department, public works section and water works department will use the crane-equipped truck.

The new front end loader ordered by the city also was put in service this week, and is being used to remove wet leaves from streets.

Next year, the city hopes to replace the old tar patching equipment now in use, and popularly referred to as the "Toonerville trolley."

Two Escanaba Men Violate Deer Law, Pay Fines At Gwinn

Leonard J. Moreau of 1122 North 18th street, Escanaba tavern keeper, and Joseph A. Little of 1514 North 19th street, pleaded guilty to charges of violating state deer laws and paid a total of $139.80 in fines and costs to Justice Hocking at Gwinn, the conservation department reported.

The two were arrested at Mashek in Marquette county at 9:25 p. m. on Sunday, Nov. 5.

Little was charged with killing a buck deer out of season and was fined $100 and $7.40 costs; Moreau with possessing a rifle larger than a 22 caliber in a deer area at night during closed season and paid a fine of $25 and costs of $7.40. Moreau's 300 caliber rifle was returned to him on payment of the fine. Pless of guilty were entered for them in Justice Hocking's court by their attorney. They were arrested by conservation officers of Gwinn and Ishpeming.

White Arctic Owls In Michigan Again

LANSING — (P)—Who! Who! Those big white Arctic owls again are invading Michigan.

The conservation department reports, however, that the invasion this year is likely to be only an echo of the previous one.

Last year, the department had over 1,500 reports of the large snowy bird. Only one has been reported so far this year, near Inlay City.

The birds come south during years of famine on their native Canadian tundra. These periods occur about every four years.

The department would like to have reports from persons seeing or bagging the owls.

The Lake Superior run, which usually produces the bulk of the yearly catch, also is expected soon.

Seney Child Lost Several Hours

SENEY—Eddie Miller, 5 year old son of Victor Miller, was lost in the woods several hours but suffered no ill effects from his experience. The child wandered away from the family car while his brother William was checking his trap lines. Seney town folks who organized searching parties found him at 10 at night walking on an old road. He explained he had gotten tired of waiting for his brother and was going home.

Serve Proudly, U. S. Youth Told

Eisenhower Talks On Military Obligation

By MAX B. SKELTON
COLLEGE STATION, Tex. — (P)—Americans, young and old, have been warned by General Dwight Eisenhower they must be proud of their military service.

The General told 5000 Texas A. & M. ROTC cadets yesterday young Americans must accept such service proudly, cheerfully and as a personal obligation.

Older men, he said, must look back fondly upon prior military service "regardless of red tape and martlets."

Under this is done, he said, the nation will not be as strong as it could be.

Eisenhower was the principal speaker at inaugural ceremonies for Dr. M. T. Harrington, twelfth president of Texas A. & M., an institution that has seen thousands of its ROTC graduates serve in the military forces.

The General was to speak before two more student groups during a busy itinerary today in Houston. He was to appear on the University of Houston campus this morning, at the Rice Institute this afternoon.

Eisenhower said he is confident Texas A. & M., under Harrington, will take an active lead in the responsibilities of colleges and universities in the current years of high and perilous stakes.

The nation's educational system, he said, "can prod us all into vigilant awareness and can arm us with the knowledge we desperately need."

Truman Facing Many Troubles

Loses Strength In Congress

By MARQUIS CHILDS
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Truman party on Tuesday suffered a worse defeat than it did in 1946. This seems to me to be true even though four years ago the Democrats lost actual control of both houses of Congress.

The very fact that the Republicans had publicly to accept responsibility for Senate and House made it possible for the president to use the "do nothing 80th Congress" as a whipping boy in his campaign for re-election in 1948. While the final result seems to rest on an extraordinarily close contest in Connecticut, it appears likely that the Democrats after January will have technical, or organizational control of both houses.

Coalition Control
But that will mean less than nothing. Long before Tuesday's election the Truman party had lost two Senate seats through the defeat in the primary in Florida of Senator Claude Pepper and in North Carolina of Senator Frank Graham. Their successors, George A. Smathers from Florida and Willis Smith from North Carolina, will vote with the Republican-Southern Democrat coalition. In other words, they seem likely to swell the ranks of the "Republicans."

It is this coalition that will exercise the real authority in the 82nd Congress. Conservative Democrats in the south will be greatly encouraged in their fundamental aim, which is to sweep Truman aside and restore the old balance of control that was shattered by the weight of organized labor in the northern wing of the party. The likelihood is that South Carolina's newly elected governor, James F. Byrnes, an astute politician and an inviolable Truman foe, will discreetly direct this movement.

The big question mark in the 82nd Congress is on the Truman-Acheson foreign policy. In every contest where it was a major factor McCarthyism won. This can be counted as reinforcing the General MacArthur get-tough-in-Asia approach.

The Truman-Acheson policy is now concentrated on the rearmament of western Europe as a primary goal. So far the European rearmament program is largely on paper. Whether support can be obtained to give it reality is highly dubious, especially in view of the Chinese threat.

Vandenberg May Resign
The consequences of Tuesday's defeat for the Truman party are seen in ominous perspective when the 80th Congress is compared with what the 82nd promises to be. In the 80th Congress the confident and skilled statesmanship of Michigan's Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg held the Republicans in Congress pretty much in line behind the Marshall plan, the Truman doctrine for Greece and Turkey and the other measures taken to buttress the western world against Communism.

Vandenberg is still suffering from the illness that has so long kept him from any active leadership in the Senate. At his office here it is said he will remain at his home in Grand Rapids until January 1 when he will return to Washington to take his seat in the 82nd Congress. There are those who believe he will resign it, as seems likely in a phenomenally close contest, Governor G. Mennen Williams, a Democrat, is defeated by his Republican opponent, Harry F. Kelly in Michigan. Kelly would then appoint a Republican successor to Vandenberg.

In any event it is doubtful that Vandenberg can again exercise the kind of high-level leadership that was his four years ago. Ranking next to him among the Republicans on the Senate foreign relations committee is Senator Alex-

Armistice Day To Be Observed Here

Armistice Day will be observed in Escanaba tomorrow with a ceremony sponsored by the American Legion and the closing of some public buildings and all banks in the community.

The Legion will salute the 32nd anniversary of the armistice that ended the fighting in World War I with a volley fired by a Legion squad at the corner of Ludington street and Tenth. The ceremony will take place at 11 a. m.

City and county offices will be closed for the day, and Carnegie Public Library will close at noon. The Escanaba post office will maintain Saturday service as usual, with the exception of eliminating the rural mail delivery.

under Wiley of Wisconsin who won re-election by a generous majority in a campaign in which he exploited McCarthyism heavily.

In the 80th Congress one of the Republican leaders in the House was Congressman Everett Dirksen of Illinois. Repeatedly declaring that he had once and for all learned the lesson of the perils of isolationism, Dirksen was an important force in gaining approval of Marshall plan aid for Europe.

Now Dirksen returned to Washington and a seat in the Senate as a sour and gloomy isolationist, professing the belief that money spent abroad is money down a rat hole. That is a measure of the significance of what happened on Tuesday. And, incidentally, Dirksen defeated Truman's majority leader in the Senate, Senator Scott Lucas, who has always supported administration foreign policy while rejecting the fair deal domestic policies.

For America and for the free world, for peoples who still have some right of choice, the full consequences of Tuesday's elections are still obscure. But it can scarcely mean any good for the difficult, perhaps impossible, task of building a coalition of nations dedicated to peace and freedom.

Colored Oleo Being Seized

Sales Not Legal Yet, State Agency Says

LANSING—(AP)—The State agriculture department announced that it was instructing its agents to place under seizure all yellow oleo offered for sale in Michigan.

Clifford H. Bracy, assistant chief of the bureau of marketing and enforcement, said that his office had received widespread reports that colored oleo was offered for sale as soon as results of the Tuesday election became known.

The voters overwhelmingly approved the sale of the colored but to substitute, on a referendum sought by dairy interests.

Bracy emphasized that the sale of the yellow oleo is not legal until 10 days after the state board of canvassers have met and certified the election results to the secretary of state. The canvassers usually meet between 20 and 30 days after an election.

The enforcement officers, he said, will check both retail and wholesale outlets, but expect to catch most of the oleo in the hands of wholesalers.

Violation of the law against yellow oleo, still in effect until the election results are certified, Bracy said, is punishable by a fine of not less than $50 or more than $1,000, or not less than six months in jail or more than three years, or both.

Escanaba Jaycees Did A Grand Job In Getting Out The Vote

EVEN though the voting turnout in Escanaba in Tuesday's election failed to reach the 80% goal set by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the voting was the heaviest on record here. The percentage of voters compared to registrations was slightly over 70% which is exceptionally good.

There were as of October 19, their last day for registrations prior to the Nov. 7 election, a total of 8,381 registered voters in Escanaba. The list included the names of an estimated 400 persons who have died, moved to other cities or for other reasons are not available for voting purposes here.

Deduct this number from the registration list and the total is approximately 8,000. There were 5,865 voters who cast ballots here Tuesday either for Governor Williams or for Harry Kelly. This total would be increased somewhat by a few who may have voted for gubernatorial candidates on minor tickets or who may not have voted at all for any candidate for governor.

It is impossible to get anything like a 100% voting turnout because some registered voters become ill after the last day for applying for absent voter's ballots, or are called out of the city. Others are unable to vote for one reason or another. The goal of 80% set by the Jaycees was an optimum one. That they were successful in getting out a record vote is an achievement of which the Junior Chamber of Commerce members can be genuinely proud.

The organization is already planning to follow through with similar campaigns in future elections.

Upon behalf of an appreciative public, public, the Daily Press is happy to extend to the Jaycees, their officers and members, a vote of thanks for a grand job well done.

Gallup Poll Did Better This Time

THE election pollsters who took such a beating in 1948 when President Truman was his fight for reelection gained some redemption of their "system" as a result of Tuesday's election.

The Gallup poll predicted that the Republicans would make substantial gains in the House of Representatives but would not gain control. The pollsters predicted 51% Democratic, 49% Republican vote in the congressional contests. The prediction was fulfilled in the Tuesday election.

The polls were badly discredited in 1948 when they were virtually unanimous in predicting a victory for Dewey over President Truman. A last minute shift of voting sentiment in that election combined with the fact that many Republican voters stayed away from the polls because they believed victory was already assured made possible Truman's victory.

Even though the Gallup poll reestablished itself in public acceptance as a result of the 1950 elections, sampling polls will never be a sure fire basis for determining election results. Too many factors are involved for complete accuracy right up to the time that the electors go to the polls. The sampling system used by the Gallup people, however, is an effective means of getting public opinion on important issues and the poll results, if maintained scrupulously honest, can be utilized in many constructive ways under our democratic system of government.

Steel Wages May Set New Pattern

THE United Steel Workers Union has opened wage negotiations with the U. S. Steel Corporation and the outcome of these discussions will have a profound effect upon the nation's entire economy.

The union is seeking a wage boost of 25c an hour. Since steel is a basic commodity, used in virtually every manufacturing process, the price of steel has a direct effect upon the price of most other commodities. A major factor in the price of steel, of course, is the cost of labor in producing steel.

Because of the eminence of steel in the nation's economic program, the wage structure in the steel industry for the past several years has been the pattern for wage adjustments nationally. A boost in steel wages has meant a similar boost for wage earners in allied industries and ultimately for all labor in the nation.

The importance of the steel wage negotiations is intensified now because of the gathering clouds of international conflict and the increased pressures of inflation. Any inflation now will sharply increase our national defense expenditures, as well as further injure millions of Americans living on fixed incomes, such as pensions, savings, social security allowances, etc.

Whether we will be able to hold the line on prices and halt the threat of inflation may be determined to a considerable degree by the result of the wage negotiations in the steel industry.

Questions and Answers

Q—What is the difference between gravitation and gravity?

A—Gravitation is a general force by which every particle pulls on every other particle; gravity is the force exerted on a body by the pull of the earth.

Q—What happened to the Lost Colony of Roanoke Island, N. C.?

A—The 150 men, women and children sent out by Sir Walter Raleigh in 1587 vanished completely. The only clue to their disappearance was the word "Croatan" scrawled on a tree.

Q—Do women live longer than men?

A—Statistics show that they do practically everywhere in the world except India.

Red China Forfeited Right To UN Seat

WITH the entry into the Korean fighting of a fresh army of "alien Communist forces" as General MacArthur referred to the Chinese Communists, even the UN commander-in-chief apparently realizes that he spoke too soon when he said that the Korean war would be over soon. Pushed back almost to the Manchurian border, the North Koreans rallied and went over to the offensive.

Probably they could not have achieved this turnaround on their own. They did it through reinforcement by an undetermined number of Chinese Communist troops and the receipt of new Soviet weapons, including self-propelled guns, rockets, tanks and even jet fighter planes.

This counter-effort hardly classifies as full-scale intervention by the Chinese Reds. If that had been the Communist aim, it would have made much more sense to have joined the battle long before the United Nations forces were near Manchuria.

Stalin seems to have settled upon limited intervention instead. Why?

Military observers are making much of the fact that large hydro-electric developments important to the Manchurian economy lie on the Korean side of the border. They believe the Chinese may be bent primarily on keeping control of these facilities.

Others put more stress upon strictly military and political factors. They see the Red rally as an effort, for one thing, to pin down UN forces through the bitter Korean winter, so they can't be freed for rest and possible duty in other critical sectors of the world.

Furthermore, it's felt this attempt to keep the border areas in Red hands may be linked with a Russian desire to promote prolonged guerrilla warfare in Korea. The success of guerrilla fighting in Greece was due largely in the fact that the rebels could mount their offensives from the territory of surrounding Red nations. Once Yugoslavia, the chief helper, closed its border, the Greek guerrillas did not last long.

There's also the view that this Korean "Battle of the Bulge" may help Communists generally to salvage some of the "face" they have lost through the series of defeats inflicted by UN forces since the Inchon landing.

It is too early to tell how effective Stalin's limited intervention will prove. Already it has made real trouble for our forces. A battalion of the American First Cavalry division had to be abandoned in a Red trap.

One thing is certain: The Reds can't recapture the bulk of North Korea and liberated South Korea without committing many more Chinese troops than are now engaged. To do that would be to risk World War III. Unless Russia is ready for another global conflict — and no expert thinks she is — the risk isn't likely to be taken.

Meantime, China's Red regime, by joining in the Korean war, has given one more convincing argument why it should not be admitted to the United Nations. Indeed, off their showing in Tibet and Korea, one can only conclude the Chinese Communists DON'T WANT to be admitted.

Snappy Shoes

When you're looking in the window at the many shoes displayed, and you marvel at the latest styles which come in every shade, you may see a pair of brogans that you think you'd like to buy, and because they are conservative, they really catch your eye. So you walk inside and tell the clerk of what you'd like to see, but it soon becomes apparent that, with you, he can't agree.

Now your choice is good, you understand, for never need you fear, that a shoe of lower quality is ever offered here. But, he says, you need a dash of youth to brighten up your feet, and he knows he has a number that is mighty hard to beat. Then he slips your foot inside a shoe of radical design, and the salesman gloats and says it surely makes your foot look fine.

Though you're just a little horrified to note its fancy cut, and you shudder at the thought of having others watch you strut, he's convincing when he says you need some glamour in your shoes, and his super line of selling talk you find you can't refuse. And it's not until you leave the store, you're fearful of your life, for it's you who has to sell those racy models to your wife!

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—President Truman and top advisers are about to uncork a pretty stiff bottle of defense medicine for the American people.

It involves an unprecedented technique for arming America without putting the country into a complete economic strait jacket.

The program has been decided at a series of ultrasecret meetings of Stuart Symington's national security resources board, now charged with over-all responsibility for war preparedness. Here's what it involves:

1. More Money—Truman will ask Congress for an additional $19,000,000,000 in the next 30 days, bringing the budget up to $54,000,000,000 for defense alone.

2. Few Controls—Price and wage controls will be delayed as long as possible, probably until next spring on all but a few short materials. These include steel and aluminum. Meanwhile, Symington is personally cracking the whip on both labor and management to keep prices down.

Note — The Ford Motor company immediately accepted Symington's suggestion that it not increase prices. Symington also arranged secretly for Truman to call CIO President Philip Murray and soft-pedal the steelworkers' demands for a wage hike; so a new round of steel price boosts would be prevented.

3. More Factories—Truman advisers are convinced that a wartime preparedness program can be built right alongside our peacetime economy without pinching the American people too sharply, chiefly by plant expansion.

4. Heavy Taxes—The administration plans to control inflation by an almost ruthless tax program plus vigorous credit controls. The treasury department headed by timid Secretary John Snyder is dragging its feet on this, but the Federal Reserve board, plus Symington and the president's economic advisers, are now urging a 100 per cent excess-profits tax as well as sharply increased corporate taxes to finance defense on a pay-as-you-go basis.

PRIZE BUREAU-CRAT

Symington fully expects to wind up being the nation's most unpopular bureaucrat, and a phone call he got the other day from Speaker Sam Rayburn in Bonham, Texas, indicates that he is on the way. Sam was complaining about the new credit controls.

"Last month," said the speaker, "200 cars were sold down here in Bonham. This month, thanks to credit controls, the number sold was only five."

"How big is Bonham?" Symington asked.

"Eight thousand, five hundred," replied the speaker.

"Well, 200 cars a month is too many for a city of that size," argued Symington.

He went on to explain, however, that he did not want to cut auto sales to zero, only wanted to strike a happy medium. And he is genuinely concerned lest credit controls mop up surplus cash too fast. He doesn't want to drive the country into a recession by curtailing buying power before defense spending takes up the slack, and estimates that the main defense spending will be felt shortly after Christmas.

MORE STEEL MILLS

Most important part of the new plan is for large-scale building of new factories, following which defense spending and peacetime economy can continue side by side. To that end there will be a 25 per cent increase in steel production, a doubling of aluminum production, and a big increase in electric-power capacity.

Prior to Pearl Harbor, a committee of experts headed by Gano Dunn of the J. G. White Engineering Co., recommended against any increase in steel production. It feared idle blast furnaces after the war.

As a result of this recommendation the ensuing steel shortage forced the American public to forego automobiles, refrigerators and other steel products during the war. And, since the war, instead of having idle blast furnaces, the steel industry has been running at full capacity, with U. S. Steel earning the highest profits in history.

With the world's population rapidly increasing, Symington predicts the same thing will happen again.

THE PARTS OF SPEECH

The Interjection

The interjection is a CRY or EXCLAMATION expressing strong feeling or emotion such as dismay, fear, sorrow, pain, disgust, gladness, surprise, approval, excitement, etc.

Interjections are usually placed in the sentence without any grammatical connection. They may stand entirely alone. In either event, interjections are not diagrammed as part of the sentence.

The interjections in these sentences are capitalized: ALAS! poor Yorick! OH, how I wished for you. OUCH! you're hurting me! DEAR ME, what a pity to see your suffer. BY GEORGE, that's simply splendid! These interjections stand alone! Help! Horrible! Hurrah! Fire! Bravo! Ha, ha, ha! Nonsense!

A Los Angeles railroadman wants to know why we load freight in a ship, and call it a cargo, and load freight in a car and call it a shipment. This does appear to be a queer state of affairs until we look in on the background of the word cargo.

Cargo is a Spanish word that means "a burden or load." It is from the verb cargar, "to load or charge." But it has no connection with the word car, which is from the Latin carrus, "a two-wheeled wagon for transporting burdens." Thus we see that the car-of-cargo and the word car are alike only in an accidental similarity of spelling.

The word ship originally was a noun meaning "boat." From the noun came the verb "to ship" (by boat only). Later, by extension the verb came to mean to transport by any carrier—land, sea, or air. Hence, a shipment may go by freight, express, air, water, or truck.

Perfume, Milady's Modern Touch, Dates Back to Beginning of Time

By MARY JANE MOORE

That final touch to milady's modernity is as old as Time itself.

That wisep of an elfin, provocative scent in whose delicate aura she lives her most glamorous moments may seem the last word in smartness. But it only seems so. For mingling with the mustiness of history's pages, as the fragrance of a faded flower clings to the leaves within which it has rested, is the subtle, mysterious beauty of perfume.

From the present day dressing table to 1250 B. C. is a long, long journey. To make it mentally, however, is to learn that one of the unbroken links between is woman's—and man's—obsession before nature's haunting fragrances.

Helen of Troy, that fair enchantress immortalized by Homer, knew the magic of perfume. To her practice of anointing her heavy braids with it she at one time owed her life. It was when Menelaus, after the sack of Troy, entered the palace of Paris, his betrayer. The infuriated Menelaus seized the unfaithful Helen by the hair, intending to slay her for her infidelity.

Magically the scent of the unguent she used stole over him, awakening memories of the happy days they had spent together. His murderous passion abated and instead he took Helen in his arms and embraced her.

In Biblical days Mary Magdalene knew the soothing power of sweet ointments, and the Three Wise Men brought to the Christ child, as the choicest of gifts, frankincense and myrrh.

Greeks Used Saffron

The very mention of the Orient stirs up image of caravans loaded with costly rugs and permeating "all the ambient air with clinging fragrance of the tales they bear." Babylon was noted for its rare perfumes, and merchants from Greece, Rome, China, and Tyre came there for their wares.

Saffron, a fragrant herb, together with flags and mint, was used in Greek theaters and Roman baths as early as the time of Nero, imparting to everything a fresh sweetness.

Sandlewood and lavender have been known for centuries, and the strange legend of jasmine is an imperishable classic. It tells of a certain nobleman of Tuscany who, possessed the first known jasmine plant, was loathe to share the secret of this strange blossom and its clinging fragrance with anyone else, and forbade his gardener to give away a single sprig of it. The gardener, however, was in love and yielding to temptation plucked one sprig for his lady. The prudent miss plucked it and made a fortune from the fragrance of jasmine.

Narcissus, a scent found in one of the most popular and most expensive perfumes, comes from a tall, stately white flower whose history is a literary idyll. Legend has it that a beautiful youth, Narcissus, dependent on his unrequited love for Echo, fell in love with his own image as reflected in a woodland pool. Enchanted, he pined away and his mortal remains were transmuted by the gods into a flower whose destiny was to droop forever above the mirror-like pool.

Introduced by Crusaders

The fashion of perfume was first introduced into France by the Crusaders, and that country ever since has been known for its vast production of rare fragrances in perfumes. Charles V was the first monarch to direct the planting of gardens containing such flowers as lilies, lavender, roses, violets, sage, and hyssop, for the sole purpose of distilling their fragrance. Shortly thereafter perfumed gloves became the rage and all women of quality affected them.

The ancient perfumers had no spirits of strong alcohol in which to dissolve the essential oils of perfume and consequently made their scents with a basis of olive oil or other fatty substances. Hence they were called unguents. Due to the limited knowledge concerning the extraction of scents from flowers, myrrh and other such perfumes were valued highly since they could be prepared very simply—in this case merely by scraping the bark from the trees. The resulting fragrance was rich in its naturalness.

Rose water was the first scent to be obtained by the process of distillation. It is believed to have been known as early as 810 A. D. in Persia. Attar of roses, the first essential oil to be produced in a pure state, was discovered accidentally in Persia about 1612. Carmelite monks as early as the seventeenth century distilled a certain Eau des Carmes from lemon peel, balm, and lavender. Elizabeth of Hungary, noted for her great beauty, received a formula from a certain hermit for a preparation which kept her always lovely. It contained balm, lemon peel, mint, and rose water.

Today perfume still holds its spell upon femininity. American women alone spend more than $50,000,000 annually for perfumes and toilet waters. The making of these, which was once merely a fad in France, has developed into a great industry.

The center of this activity is a little town in southern France called Grasse. Its very name is

She Likes Our Ice Box

Dear Editor:

A reprint of an editorial of yours, in the Houghton Mining Gazette, made me "see red." That a man making contributions to a big newspaper like the Grand Rapids Press could be so very ignorant of his own state. What's the matter, with southern Michigan schools? Don't they teach geography? Doesn't a man who writes for the press need to know facts?

I liked your comments on Mr. Tracy's editorial—but I didn't like his contribution and wrote and very definitely told him so.

I invited him to come up himself and investigate our "Ice Box," and find out what it is like here.

Some of those contributors (?) sit in their office chairs and dream up some smart remarks like that, never even troubling to check their statements for truth.

I, too, like our "Ice Box."

Sincerely,
Mrs. Oscar W. Key,
Hancock, Michigan.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE BEAR SLAYER—Many are the stories told of bear kills this fall, but the most modest hunter to come to our attention is Lee Borden, farmer of Perronville in Menominee county.

While in Escanaba we talked with Borden and he told us that he was working out in the back forty at his farm, cutting pulp wood, when he saw the bear. He dropped it with one shot from his rifle. The bear was a big male, weighed about 250 pounds.

It was a week later that we heard, through a friend of Borden, that the bear had approached Borden while he was working in the woods. It reared on its hind feet, made what appeared to be threatening actions and noises, and was on the point of rushing him when Borden shot.

IN PUBLIC SERVICE—Approximately one-half of the people in the United States are women—a pleasant and basically desirable arrangement.

But there are few women who aspire to public office, although if they do they have a reputation for integrity and capability in public service. Menominee county, for example, has for a number of years been served by Mrs. Maude Prince as treasurer.

Delta county also once had a woman as county treasurer—the late Miss Mary McColl, who was elected in 1920, a year marking the start of the franchise for women and opening to them the opportunity to become candidates. Miss McColl was the first woman to hold a Delta county office and was reelected to serve a total of 12 years—until the Democratic landslide of 1932.

Now the county has elected Mary Constantineau, deputy clerk for several years, to the office of deputy clerk and register of deeds. She is the second woman to serve the county in public office in county history.

And it may or may not be significant that all three of the women named above were elected on the Republican ticket. It may be more flattering to observe that it is unwise to underestimate the power of a woman.

ROSES ARE RED—Cold weather has dispelled thoughts of anything but winter—but it was only a week or so ago that Easter lilies and red roses were blooming in the back yard of the John Nicholas residence, 714 South 12th street.

That was during the warm spell that gave a lingering taste of summertime and revived frost-nipped flower gardens. Since then, of course, winter has made a strong advance and only the most hardy blooms remain.

HONESTY—From Jean Worth's "Town Crier" column in the Menominee Herald-Leader we lift the following item:

"A railroad man without his watch is like a ship captain without compass, or an airman without his altimeter, and that's why Albin Anderson, yardmaster for the Chicago & North Western at Escanaba, is singing the praises of the Gateway Cafe on Ogden avenue."

"Anderson and his wife drove here recently to put mileage on his new car. They stopped to sample the gateway's cooking and Anderson left his watch in the washroom and didn't discover his loss until enroute home.

"He placed a frantic call to the Gateway and was relieved when he was told, 'Yes, we found it.'"

VERY QUIET—This column is being written the morning of Thursday, Nov. 9, the day of the big telephone strike. It is quiet around the office—very quiet.

Missing is the usual and almost incessant ringing of the telephone. We must confess that we find it pleasant. As one of the desk slaves commented, "Why did anybody ever try to discourage a telephone strike?"

But also missing from the newspaper office are the many telephoned items about events in the community, which is the lifeblood of local news. The telephone has become an indispensable link in the nation's communication.

Fortunately the news wire services, operated over telephone lines, and emergency messages by telephone, can continue because of the corps of non-union personnel in the telephone offices. The break-down is serious but not complete.

Air Supply Route Without Airplanes Captured In Korea

By TOM STONE
(For Hal Boyle)

U. S. SEVENTH DIVISION HEADQUARTERS, Korea — (P) — The Korean Reds had an ingenious aerial supply system that swung huge buckets of food and supplies over lofty mountains to troops 25 miles away.

It is an electrically operated conveyor system that carried enough stuff to keep thousands of soldiers eating every day.

The supply end of the revolving cable system was taken by an American patrol Tuesday about 10 miles east of Oungsan, a small settlement near a reservoir and warehouses in northeast Korea.

The operator was captured and tons of supplies were confiscated. They included 100 tons of rice, 100 tons of dried fish, 100 tons of soy beans, 25 tons of nitrate, 10 tons of barley, three tons of tea and two tons of rope.

A second patrol went after the unloading end of the conveyor system but found the Reds had abandoned positions there.

Capt. E. N. Anderson, 31, of Lawton, Okla., flew from one end of the conveyor system to the other. He reported:

"The conveyor resembled those at winter resorts to carry skiers to the top of the run, but these were a lot bigger.

"The towers, which look like oil derricks, were spaced about 500 yards apart and were perched on hill tops. The buckets rode along above the tree tops."

Anderson estimated that each bucket extending from revolving cables would "hold at least one hundred gallons."

An intelligence officer in division headquarters said the conveyor apparently was intended originally to haul lumber across the mountains.

He said it was similar to some in Japan.

Anderson said the conveyor extended north through enemy territory for several miles, then turned west and followed the south banks of the Ungi to another reservoir northwest of Pungsan.

WHERE NEW HOUSES WENT—Above you see a map of the city of Escanaba, showing where new residences were built in the past 10 years. Each dot represents one new house in most cases. Over 400 new dwellings are represented on the map.

In North Escanaba, the areas west of the fairgrounds, north of the C&NW main track and north of the ore dock tracks are zoned industrial. Thus only the areas bounded by the heavy lines in the map above are available for residential development. New building in this area has been confined to empty lots in areas already developed for residential use.

In areas south of Ludington street residential building has moved west considerably, and was heaviest in the area bordering sections already built-up. Property for the new Catholic Central high school extends from the alley between 19th and 20th streets west to 22nd street and from South Third avenue to the alley between Fourth and Fifth avenues. St. Ann parish owns 10 acres on the northeast intersection of Eighth avenue south and M-35.

The map was prepared by the city for the Escanaba board of education, to assist in locating new school buildings here. Recently the board of education purchased 39 acres on the west side of 23rd street, between Third and Fifth avenues, as a possible school site.

Mental Patient Gets 5,716 Vote Total In Marquette Election

MARQUETTE, Mich.—(P)—T. Edward Aho, Democratic candidate for Marquette county treasurer, polled 5,716 votes in Tuesday's election—despite the fact he is a patient at Newberry state hospital for the insane.

Aho, however, was defeated by the Republican incumbent, Vining Bjork, who got 11,040 votes. Aho carried four of the county's 48 precincts.

Aho qualified as a candidate for the September Democratic primary before he was committed to the state hospital. Since he was committed through probate court where such actions normally are not announced, few knew he had been sent to the hospital at the time of the primary, which he won.

Democrats sought a way to substitute another nominee to oppose Bjork but couldn't find any.

Food Price Drop Too Small For Budgets

(By The Associated Press)

Changes in retail food prices were mostly downward this week, but the reductions were too small to make much impression on the family budget.

Eggs were down two to five cents a dozen in most places as supplies increased seasonably.

Several nationally distributed brands of coffee were reduced one to three cents a pound by roasters who said they were paying less for green coffee.

Beef Cuts Eased

Beef items eased as much as six cents a pound in some large marketing areas. Several pork cuts declined a few cents here and there but the overall trend in pork was about steady following last week's mark-downs. Lamb and veal were mostly unchanged.

Frying and broiling chickens edged one to four cents a pound lower in highly competitive chain stores and were headlined on the agriculture department's most-plentiful foods list for this week. The department's production and marketing administration reported that about 50 per cent more lightweight chickens will be available in retail poultry markets this month than during last November. Fresh produce items lower-priced in most places this week included Florida oranges, grapefruit, California grapes, pears from Washington, Oregon and California; spinach, onions, cranberries, cauliflower and artichokes.

Cranberries Plentiful

Many stores marked up snap beans sharply as supplies fell off—partly because of the Florida hurricane damage to crops weeks ago. Lima beans, bunch carrots, and golden heart celery also were a little higher.

Cranberries shared the plentiful-foods spotlight with chicken this week. The crop this year is expected to be the second largest on record—exceeded only by 1948, and 32 per cent above the 1939-48 average. Massachusetts will provide about 600,000 of the 941,000-barrel total, with New Jersey, Wisconsin, Washington and Oregon the other major producing states.

Precedents Mean
Little In Life
Of Ruth Thompson

MUSKEGON—(P)—Supporters of Ruth Thompson don't know what precedents she may shatter in Washington representing the ninth Michigan district, but they expect she will find some to smash.

For record-breaking comes as naturally as success to the all-grey-haired Republican attorney who Tuesday was elected the state's first congresswoman.

She has been the "first woman" to do so many things in public life, however, that she takes this latest achievement in stride.

In 1925 she became the only woman member of Muskegon county's bar association. About the same time she became the county's first and only woman judge of probate, a position she won and held 12 years.

But "precedent-breaking" isn't a goal in itself—just a by-product of doing what she wants to do, Miss Thompson points out.

As a child in Whitehall she had to work to get an education. She came to Muskegon to attend high school, and worked her way through Muskegon business college.

Secretarial Job
Her first job determined her career. She became secretary to an attorney. As a sideline she did typing for the probate court. She was so capable she inevitably got the job as register.

Her experience in that post convinced Miss Thompson she could handle the duties of judge of probate as well as any man. Despite the critics, she ran against experienced lawyers and won.

When she finally stepped down, after 12 years, it was with the reputation of being one of the best probate judges the county had ever had.

While she was probate judge she studied law at night and passed her bar examinations.

In 1938 Miss Thompson became a candidate for the state legislature. When she won she became the first woman representative from Muskegon county.

Conviction Of Success
Miss Thompson's decision to run for the seat in Congress made vacant by the resignation of her longtime friend Albert J. Engel was made with the same conviction of success that marked previous decisions in her career.

She told a supporter of a rival candidate "I'm going to run against your candidate for Congress—and I'll beat him, too."

She defeated two experienced political veterans in the primary, and beat her well-known Democratic opponent, Noel Fox, by 5,000 votes Tuesday.

Six feet tall, erect as a soldier, the 63-year-old Miss Thompson will go to Congress pledged to do the same thorough-going, capable job that she has always sought to do since her public career began.

Indians Organize For Impending Season

Plans to get hockey going early this winter were made at a well attended meeting of the Gladstone Indian Hockey club Wednesday evening at the city hall.

A delegation was named to represent the Indians at the league organization meeting Sunday at Escanaba.

Most of the former members of the team were on hand and several new players expressed a desire to join the Indians.

Driving Without Permit Frowned On By State Police

Pleading guilty Thursday before Justice of Peace Henry Ranguette to a charge of driving an auto while his operator's license was revoked cost Alphonse Cayer of McFarland $15, court costs of $5 and he was forced to spend two days in jail, a mandatory sentence in such cases.

Cayer might be driving yet had he been more careful. Noting the vehicle's license plate was obscured and the rear view mirror not adjusted properly, Michigan State Police stopped Cayer for a routine check.

He had no operator's permit and admitted the license had been revoked several years ago. A check revealed that he had never complied with provisions of the Michigan financial security law and thus was not eligible to obtain permission to drive again.

Conviction Appealed To Higher Court

Berthal Hansen, Lathrop tavern operator, was found guilty of selling beer to minors following trial before Justice of Peace O. C. Estenson yesterday morning and was sentenced to pay a fine of $25.00 and court costs of $24.05. Notice of appeal was immediately filed by counsel for Hansen. Bail was set at $200 which was furnished and Hansen was released.

The complaint on which Hansen was arrested charges sale of intoxicants to two minors. Both pleaded guilty in justice court and paid fines. Statements made by the two resulted in Hansen's arrest.

Million Fat Deer Awaiting Hunters

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
LANSING (AP)—About 1,000,000 fat and healthy deer are waiting in Michigan's forests and fields for an expected invasion by nearly 400,000 deer hunters Nov. 15.

Judging by the deer killed by bow and arrow hunters and the observations of conservation department field men, the deer are in excellent condition and there are as many of them as ever.

The 16-day general deer season permits the taking of one buck anywhere in the state. The only limitation on firearms is that hunters in the southern Lower Peninsula may use only shotguns with buckshot, ball or slug loads.

Law Not Loosened
Observers looked for at least a slight increase in the 380,000 who bought deer licenses last year, but little change from last year's kill of 115,000 bucks.

As it has for many years, the kill will fall to harvest all the deer that could be harvested without damage to the herd, game experts say. Game Chief Harry D. Ruhl of the conservation department has said that 250,000 deer, half of them does, could be taken every year without reducing the herd.

So far, however, the state legis-

Retail Group Hears Plans For Santa Claus Program; Discuss Community Center

Plans for the proposed community Santa Claus program here on Saturday, Dec. 9, were discussed by the retail division of the Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce at its meeting Wednesday evening.

O. J. Schuster, chairman of the retail subcommittee on trade area development, discussed various plans for the program which were outlined at a meeting of his committee and the Chamber's special Santa Claus committee the previous evening.

George Dorman, steward of Local No. 1196, State, County and Municipal Employees, A. F. of L., outlined plans for financing the program and said that the city union was prepared to contribute $750 which it had earned by the sale of scrap iron. Informal promises of support have been received from some of the other local unions, he said, and industrial and business firms also will be invited to make contributions to the campaign.

"This is a plan to do something for our youngsters," he said.

Lighting Contest
Other reports were given on the store decoration program, Christmas season store hours, and a residential lighting contest to be sponsored by the Manistique Lions club.

Christmas light fixtures, recently acquired by the chamber, are scheduled to be lighted on Nov. 27 and stories are expected to have their holiday lights and decorations up prior to Dec. 9.

The Lions club, it was revealed, has appropriated $75 for prizes in the holiday home lighting contest, with $25 for first; $16 for second; $10 for third; and five prizes of $5 each.

E. E. Cookson, retail chairman, was instructed to present the idea of creating a community building study committee at the next session of the chamber's board of directors.

The need for a community building in Manistique was stressed by O. J. Schuster who said that the recent Upper Peninsula Potato show clearly revealed that this community should have such a public meeting and banquet center.

$10,000 Available
Schuster revealed that approximately $10,000 in the former Youth Center and the Jennie Putnam estate trust funds would probably be available for such a venture.

The proposed study committee,

Rev. Schobert To Observe 3rd Year Of Pastorate Here

Rev. William H. Schobert, pastor of the First Baptist church, will observe the third anniversary of his pastorate here on Sunday. Rev. Schobert came to Manistique on Nov. 12, 1947.

During his first three years in the local church, Rev. Schobert has taken a wide interest in community affairs. Church membership has been increased, a new Hammond organ installed, a new pulpit provided, and the church has undertaken the sponsorship of an active Boy Scout troop.

Besides being president of the Manistique Ministerial association this year, Rev. Schobert is moderator for the Marquette Baptist association and a member of the board of managers for the Baptist convention.

The Schoberts have four sons, Hugo in the airforce, and William, Daniel and Timothy at home.

"NICE WORK, COACH MONSON" — So said Coach Morley Fraser (left), of Newberry as he turned over to Coach Harry Monson of Iron River the Gladstone Rotary club "coach of the year" trophy which he had won last year. Monson won it this year after his team had scored its first unbeaten record in the history of Iron River high school. (Daily Press photo)

Also Ran Hoosiers, Wolves Meet

ANN ARBOR — (P)—Michigan and Indiana, with more likenesses than differences, clash here tomorrow in a Big Ten fight to protect already tarnished football records.

A crowd estimated at about 75,000 is expected. The teams have identical records of two victories, three defeats and a tie.

In the Big Ten race, Michigan has an edge on the basis of a win over Wisconsin, a loss to Illinois and a tie with Minnesota. The Hoosiers of Coach Clyde Smith have beaten Iowa and lost to Ohio and Illinois.

The contest will match Michigan passer Chuck Ortman against Indiana's smart sophomore thrower, Lou D'Achille, in a meeting that should produce a stadium full of tosses.

Also meeting will be Michigan's Don Dufek, number one runner on the Wolverine squad, and the Hoosier's best ground gainer, Bobby Robertson.

For the first time since the season started, Michigan Coach Bennie Oosterbaan apparently has no new injury to worry about.

Earlier this week he shifted reserve fullback Ralph Straffon to the injury-ridden wingback spot to bolster the Wolverine running game.

Indiana will be gunning for its first victory over Michigan since a 13-7 affair in 1945 and its fifth in the 17-game series.

Already beaten by Michigan State, Army and Illinois, Michigan is fighting a back-to-the-wall campaign to avoid one of the worst seasons in its history.

Badgers Hoping To Stop Bucks

COLUMBUS, O. — (P)—They have identical five-win, one-loss records, but if Ohio State doesn't defeat Wisconsin Saturday in the Big Ten's top tilt, you may as well throw away the form sheets for future drafts.

The Badgers are snapping at Ohio's heels in the Western conference race, and if Wisconsin can engineer an upset it is Rose bowl bound.

Wisconsin will throw a 189-pound line against Ohio's 212-pound offensive forward wall which has held six foes to an average of 62 yards on the ground, and the 23 pounds per man—especially when the lines are evenly matched—in speed—provide a hefty edge.

Coatta is leading the conference passers with 34 completions in 55 attempts, and no Big Ten defender has snared one of his tosses.

Ohio, blessed with a speedy, versatile ball-carrying and ball-tossing corps headed by brilliant Y Janowicz, has proved its ability to turn breaks into touchdowns with amazing regularity.

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

Odds and ends . . . Lowell (Red) Dawson, MSC backfield coach, will speak at Menominee's football banquet . . . Wally Weber, Michigan's word slinger, will do the honors Dec. 4 for Soo high school gridders . . . Newberry will have an MSC coach, as yet unnamed, for its Nov. 30 banquet, to which we have a personal invitation.

One of the strangest reasons for firing two top notch college football players came this week from Coach Otis Douglas of the University of Arkansas . . . said Coach Davis: "I had instructed Center Bob Griffin and Tackle Fred Williams over a week ago that they had to attend classes . . . I found they hadn't done so" . . . the two boys were dismissed . . . things are getting pretty sad when college football players have to attend classes!

Allan Ronberg, Norway high school coach, is the new president of the U. P. Coaches association which will meet next spring at Michigan Tech in Houghton.

Rogers City forfeited a football game to Alpena the other night because End Jim Plume had contracted polio.

Dick Baldwin of Escanaba was game co-captain of the Soo Tech football team . . . Baldwin is a halfback.

Bob Mann, former Michigan end who said he had been railroaded out of pro ball, has been offered $550 a game by the Packers for the rest of the Green Bay games this season.

It took Harold King of Green Bay only two rounds to knock out Mike Spangler of Marshfield the other night . . . King had been up all night awaiting the arrival of a son . . . wonder if that had anything to do with it?

Coach Omer Lajeunesse of Iron Mountain, writing as an "expert" for a Detroit newspaper on U. P. football, didn't name a single Escanaba player on either first or second teams . . . wonder if he forgot that 26-14 defeat hung on his boys by Escanaba . . . or maybe that's why . . . he names one of his own players, a boy named Forest Rousseau, at a first team end post . . . wonder where Rousseau was when he played Escanaba.

Incidentally, 11 Iron Mountain players, including Bob Gingrass, were seniors . . . and 10 from Kingsford have played their last high school football.

It's Robert, not Jack, Cole of Gladstone who was named tackle on the Great Lakes conference team.

Harry Monson, Iron River coach, says his basketball material is so poor he's considering coaching the girls' team and letting the varsity use the gym for practice on Friday afternoon.

Dear Zillions: Hoople Picks Irish To Tip Pitt

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Pusher for Willie Heston

Egad! I have been saving one of my juiciest upsets all season, and I am prepared to announce it now.

So, hold your hats everybody, here it is: Notre Dame to beat Pittsburgh by a score of 26 to 14.

Many a year has passed since the Panther invaded South Bend as a favorite over the Fighting Irish. These were the days when the late Dr. Jock Sutherland produced powerful teams at Pitt. But the cycle has turned its course, and now we find Pitt rated a touchdown better than the Leahy Larrupers.

One other upset is in the cards. You may be astounded when I tell you Virginia Military will defeat Georgia Tech, but that's how it is going to be, zillions of gentle readers.

Colgate over Cornell is my big one for the east.

Now, go right ahead with the rest of the program:

Pennsylvania over Michigan
Columbia over Dartmouth
Colgate over Cornell
Fordham over Georgetown
Clemson over Boston College
Princeton over Harvard
Marquette over Holy Cross
Tulane over Navy
Notre Dame over Pitt

Bears, Bruins Clash in Coast Game of Year

BERKELEY, Calif. — (P) — Championship standings and Rose bowl chances will be at stake here tomorrow when the undefeated California Bears and the once-beaten University of California at Los Angeles Bruins clash in their all-important coast conference football classic.

It's the "game of the year" for the two powerful rivals.

A capacity crowd of 81,000 is expected to watch the contest.

Under Henry "Red" Sanders, the former Vanderbilt coach, the Bruins have been downright formidable the past two years.

California goes into action tomorrow with the only unblemished record in or out of the conference. U. C. L. A. has lost to Washington, 20-21, in the league, and 6-14 to Illinois.

Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf, who left comparative coaching security after twelve years at Northwestern for a job then known as "a coach's graveyard" at California, has become a "wonder man" here. Since his first team in 1947 lost to Southern California, 14-39, partly Pappy has produced two Rose bowl clubs and hasn't dropped a conference game. The California football slate today numbers 21 consecutive league victories and 31 wins in a row for regular season play.

LAST MINUTE SCORE

YPSILANTI — (P) — Dave Mann intercepted a pass and sprinted 21 yards to a touchdown in the last two minutes of play to give Wayne frosh a 7-6 victory over Michigan Normal freshmen yesterday.

It's Gopher Defense Vs. Spartan Offense

EAST LANSING — (P) — Minnesota's goliath Gophers, fired-up and victory-famished, collide here tomorrow with the heavily-favored Michigan State Spartans, in what looks like a battle of offense vs. defense.

The game, the last home stand of the year for the Spartans, will be played before a sell-out crowd of 50,100 fans. It will be the first gridiron meeting between the two schools, and a reunion for their two coaches.

MSC Coach Biggie Munn, a Minnesota all-American guard, once was Bierman's assistant in Minneapolis. But Saturday will mark the first time that one of his own teams has taken on a Bierman bunch.

The Spartans, outweighed 20 pounds per man by the usual tremendous Minnesota line, will rely on superior team speed and a seventh victory in eight starts.

Minnesota may try to stop the Spartan runners, like Sonny Grandelius and Leroy Crane, with sheer bulk. It also will rely on a pair of hard-charging ends to bottle up Quarterback Al Dorow, the MSC passer.

In between, the Gophers will try to spring loose their own backs, George Hudak and Dick Gregory. They are known to lack the scoring punch of the Spartans.

Both teams go into the game at full strength. Michigan State, for the first time this year, hasn't a single man on the injury list. The Gophers, who arrive in Lansing today, are reported in the same position.

BULLETIN

CLEVELAND — (P) — Al Lopez, Indianapolis Indians manager for the past three years, today was named manager of the Cleveland Indians for the next two seasons. The salary terms were said to be the highest ever paid a non-playing Cleveland pilot.

Ryan said arrangements are "nearing completion" for "Boudreau, for nine years the Tribe's playing manager, to take another major league managerial job.

City Cage Loop Meets On Tuesday

The Escanaba Basketball Association will meet Tuesday night at 7:30 in the council chambers of the city hall. Members will vote on a proposed constitutional change which will provide for a board of directors with power to act on protests and controversial matters.

Team entry blanks and roster sheets will be available at the meeting and the group will decide whether to open the season with a series of practice games or to move right into regular league play. The entry fee is $15 per team.

Lions Won't Fire Bo McMillan—Yet!

DETROIT — (P) — Bo McMillan and the Detroit Lions will go it together at least to the end of this season.

Rumors that the silver-haired coach faced early removal were spiked today by Lion President Edwin J. Anderson.

Anderson, however, gave some credence to the recent talk by leaving the door open for a decision at the end of the campaign.

Anderson said that the Lions—"like all businesses"—will "sit down at the end of the season and review."

"If we have had a good season or if we have had a bad season, the necessary steps will be taken at that time," he said.

The Lions have lost five games in eight tries and have four to go.

At the same time Anderson took occasion to throw a block against "second guessing" the Lions.

Twenty-four Escanaba high school football players—15 of them seniors—and five cross country runners were awarded major athletic letters by Coaches Jim Rouman and Henry Wylie at an assembly program yesterday.

In addition three other cross country runners received minor letters and two received honorable mention. They were all members of the team which won the Upper Peninsula championship here between halves of the Escanaba-Iron Mountain football game.

Wylie Lauds Spirit
Juniors are Warren Johnstone, Paul Baldwin, Jack Chiske, Casper Bartley, Gerald Bolm, Tom Smith, Paul Gunderman and Al Villemure.

Paul Davidson was the lone sophomore. Ken Gunderman received a letter as student manager.

Major letters in cross country went to Dave Zerbel, a senior, who placed fourth in the U. P. meet; Glen Larsen, a junior, who placed sixth; Tom Fisher, junior; tenth; Dave Gasman, junior; eleventh; and Brian Corcoran, junior, fourteenth.

Minor letters went to Harlan Yelland, sophomore, and Cleve Moore and Bob Vadnais, juniors. Barrie Shipman, a sophomore, and Arnold Johnson, a junior, received honorable mention.

Coach Henry Wylie lauded his boys for their fine spirit and for their teamwork which resulted in their winning the U. P. title.

Gibson Sparks Shamrock Win

Don Lewis Stars For VFW Five

It looks like the Escanaba Shamrocks have picked up a classy newcomer in Sam Gibson of Rapid River.

Gibson was one of the sparks that gave the Shamrocks a 48-14 victory over the classy VFW outfit at William Bonifas Memorial gym last night in the first game of the local independent season before a small crowd.

The two teams, composed mostly of veterans who have played independent ball in Escanaba several years, were evenly matched and not more than six points separated them at any time.

Don Lewis starred for the losers with his rebound work and high scoring.

In the preliminary, the Cloverlands defeated the Transfers 31 to 21.

Sam Jethroe Is National League's Rookie Of Year

NEW YORK — (P) — Sam Jethroe, fleet-footed centerfielder of the Boston Braves, reigned today as the National league's rookie of the year.

The speedy Negro flychaser, who once outraced Olympic sprinter Barney Ewell, drew 11 of the 23 first place votes cast by a committee of the Baseball Writers association.

Second place went to young Bob Miller, snappy right-hander of the Philadelphia Phillies. Miller, who won eight straight games for the Phils before losing, polled five votes, one more than Pittsburgh's classy shortstop, Danny O'Connell.

Bubba Church, another flashy Philly right-hander, placed fourth with two votes. Chicago Cub third baseman Bill Serena received one vote.

Jethroe promised the home folk he'd hit 300. He failed by 27 points. But the people of East St. Louis have long since forgotten that promise. Jethroe has made up for it in many, many other ways.

For one, his 35 stolen bases lead the league. And he pounded out 159 hits, 18 homers and drove across 58 runs. So his .273 batting average doesn't look too bad, after all.

Sam Jethroe

Another Powerhouse At Ishpeming

ISHPEMING — The Ishpeming high school basketball team faces a task which confronts no other Class B or C basketball team in the Upper Peninsula—that of defending its state championship.

Coach C. C. Watson and the 16 men presently working out realize fully they are going to be the target for every team on the rough 15-game schedule. The Hematites will be known as the state champs and each rival will be "up" for the game against the Hematites.

St. Norbert Honors Iron Mountain Boy

WEST DE PERE — Major football letters were awarded to 32 St. Norbert college players by the college athletic board. Seven players were awarded minor letters.

One player earned his fourth football letter at St. Norbert. He is Bob Blohowiak, senior tackle who captained the undefeated-united Knights throughout the season.

Pat Smithwick, Kewanee, Wis., Dick Romanski and Bill Van Dyke both from Milwaukee, Bob Lindsay, Oconto, Clayton Maloney and Ray Crum, both of Green Bay, Frank Pirman, Cicero, Ill., Bill Crowley, Chicago, Gene Yurich, Rhineland, Wis., Cy Blaser, Krakow, Wis., Bob Bush, Battle Creek, Mich., and Bob Morrissey, Elkhorn, Wis. all were awarded their third football monogram.

Winning their second "N" were Allen Weber, Cambesport, Wis., John Ritchay, Wisconsin Rapids, John Gucwa, Marinette, Norb Wawryn and Jerry Dufek, both from Milwaukee.

Players who were awarded their first letter include Jerry Wilson, Ron Feuerstein, both of Sturgeon Bay, Francis Fruzen, Green Bay, Ron Nelson, Chicago, Leo O'Connell, Manitowoc, Bob Rousseau, Toledo, Ohio, Jerry Mandertfield, Appleton, Rog McKenna, Random Lake, Wis., Bob Wilson, Oshkosh, Doug Hebert, Marinette, Norb Weinberger, LeRoy, Dick Hoerning, New London, Wis., Tony Cristan, Iron Mountain and Bill Murphy, Milwaukee.

The St. Norbert team finished the season undefeated in seven games. They won the Midlands conference title

Irish Play Pitt On Comeback Trail

SOUTH BEND — (P) — Notre Dame's football team, on the comeback trail, plays win-hungry Pittsburgh here tomorrow before an expected capacity crowd of 57,000.

The Irish boosted their season rating to .500 in six games with a victory last week over Navy. After Pitt, they play Iowa and Southern California.

Pittsburgh has won only one game this season, beating West Virginia last week, 21-7. But their conquerors include some of the best teams in the county. They've lost to Duke, Ohio State, Rice, Northwestern and Miami.

The Irish, already at least two touchdown favorites, were further bolstered by news this week that John Petibon, speedy halfback, will play against the Panthers. Petibon, injured in the Michigan State game two weeks ago, missed the Navy victory.

Texas Grid Coach Will Be Oilman

AUSTIN, Tex. — (P) — The University of Texas is in the market for a new head football coach—the tenth since it became a member of the Southwest conference in 1915. Blair Cherry, headman of the Longhorns for four seasons, will retire to the oil business when the current campaign runs its course.

Cherry in his regime as head coach at Texas has won 28 games, lost nine and tied one and been in two bowl games—the Sugar and Orange bowls. If Texas wins the conference title this year it will be in the Cotton bowl Jan. 1.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our son and brother, George F. Hallfrisch, who passed away four years ago today, November 10, 1946.

Lies in a grave quietly sleeping. Lies the one we loved so dear. Time can never heal our sorrow. As we mourn this fourth sad year. Loving his memory, his memory we'll keep. Nor till life ends, shall we forget him. Sacred is the place where he is asleep.

Sadly missed by
MOTHER AND BROTHER.

C&NW Official Scans Ore Pool

Shannon Inspects Power In U. P.

C. C. Shannon, assistant to Chicago and Northwestern railroad vice president in charge of operations, has returned to Chicago after inspecting power and equipment situation in the Peninsula division in connection with ore movement from the Menominee and Gogebic ranges.

Shannon, former trainmaster located at Escanaba, made a run on the ore train to Antoine and return. Accompanying him were Leonard C. Reynolds, division superintendent, and G. W. Wolter, ore accountant.

Shannon came to Escanaba as trainmaster in December, 1941 and left here about a year and a half ago for Chicago.

Equipment is being readied here to steam ore with locomotives when weather is cold enough to freeze it in the cars.

Retired Marine Hero Elected To Congress On Republican Ticket

TOWSON, Md. —(P)—James Patrick S. Devereux, retired marine general who was the hero of Wake Island's stout but hopeless defense right after Pearl Harbor, still has his fingers crossed. But complete, unofficial returns show he won a seat in Congress Tuesday.

It was quite a feat for the wiry 47-year-old. Maryland's second district has sent a Republican to Congress only four times in 50 years.

Unofficial returns showed Devereux polled 97,926 votes to 95,398 for Rep. William P. Bolton, the Democratic incumbent.

The marine hero now operates a 200 acre stock farm just north of Baltimore. His first wife died during the four years he was in a Japanese prison camp and he married again after the war.

Strangler Of Baby Committed To Ionio

DETROIT — (P)—A young mother who admitted strangling her seven-week-old daughter has been ordered committed to the Ionio State hospital for the criminal insane.

Recorder's Judge Charles W. Jones directed the commitment yesterday after a three-man sanity board examined Mrs. Lillian Nagy, 25.

Mrs. Nagy had been charged with killing the baby Oct. 16. Under Michigan law, she still would have to stand trial on the murder charge if she should be cured and released from the hospital.

The woman's family doctor told the court she suffered from postpartum psychosis after the child's birth Aug. 27.

Errors Cut Lead Of Harry Kelly To Under 1,000

Williams by 182.

Likewise, in Menominee county, Kelly lost 106 and Williams 128.

Theoretically the election was over Nov. 7. But as corrected returns piled in, it was increasingly evident that nothing could be determined until an official canvass—and probably a recount.

Kelly's lead, held to be about 6,000 as the counting was finished originally, melted before the corrected figures.

Picking up 3,196 votes in a whooping Wayne county correction and adding more in other outstate changes, Governor G. Menen Williams was gaining steadily in revised figures.

Changes came from almost every county. Among the biggest was in Macomb, where the young Democratic governor gained 875 votes. A Livingston correction tacked on 99 to the Williams total, also subtracted 47 from Kelly. Changes of one or two came from dozens of counties.

And so it went. But in a race of such fantastically close figures, every vote counted.

And generally the trend was down as county after county reported corrections in favor of the Democrats.

Kelly Driving South

But Kelly himself appeared less worried than his cohorts. Reached in Kentucky where he was driving south with his family after his apparent election victory, he said he was "most interested." Nevertheless, he declined to return to Michigan.

Chairman Owen J. Cleary of the Republican state central committee shot a telegram to Police Commissioner George Boos of Detroit and law enforcement chiefs in 13 other industrial counties requesting that they use "every precaution" to preserve all ballots from Tuesday's primary.

Briefly Told

Representative Einar Erlandsen, 1014 North 16th street, and Lawrence Bjorkquist left yesterday for Lansing where Mr. Erlandsen attended the special session of the legislature today.

Fractures Arm—James B. Hurkman, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hurkman of Arnold, was treated at St. Francis hospital for fractures of both bones of the right forearm and a green stick fracture of the left arm received in a fall from a swing on the school playground.

Controls Will Be Mandatory

Government To Draft Military Priorities

WASHINGTON—(P)—Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, forecasting that the full impact of rearmament will hit industry "next spring or summer," said today the government has dropped the idea of controlling production by voluntary means.

The National Production Authority (NPA), Sawyer told a news conference, will rely chiefly on mandatory orders because voluntary, industry-wide compacts "just won't work."

The secretary gave assurance, however, that NPA will try not to curtail civilian goods output so rapidly as to cause temporary idleness and slack business before military buying hits its stride.

Sawyer also reported: 1. The steel industry may "substantially increase" its plant expansion program above the 9,500,000 tons already assured by the end of 1952.

2. He expects the expansion to continue at the same rate after 1952 thereby bringing steel-making capacity to about 120,000,000 tons a year by the end of 1954.

3. He is confident that looting bottlenecks in managanes, iron ore and ore boats will be overcome. All are vital to expanding steel production.

Babando Score Gives Hawks Win

(By The Associated Press)

Pete Babando, hero of the final game in the last Stanley cup playoffs, apparently is aiming at more laurels in the National hockey league.

Babando, a 187-pounder from Braeburn, Pa., fired home the winning marker for Detroit in the overtime battle with New York's Rangers for the cup last spring.

Since then, Pete joined the Chicago Blackhawks and last night his goal less than two minutes before the game ended gave his team a 2-1 victory over the Montreal Canadiens. The tally also gave Chicago third place over Montreal.

Babando last season scored only six goals in 55 games. He already has half that number at this early stage of the current campaign.

The game at Chicago was the only one scheduled last night.

Dauthuille Favored Over Paddy Young

NEW YORK — (P)—Laurent Dauthuille, the capable Frenchman who missed winning the middleweight title by 13 seconds, is a strong favorite to whip tough Paddy Young tonight in a Madison Square Garden 10-rounder.

The odds makers have set up Dauthuille at 1 to 2 over the game youngster from New York's Greenwich Village. This is Dauthuille's New York debut after a series of winning efforts at Montreal.

Detroit knows all about the blond Frenchman. It was at Olympia stadium there that Dauthuille almost lifted Jake La Motta's middleweight crown, Sept. 13.

This will be the first glimpse of Dauthuille by a large share of the fight public. He has never fought in New York.

Noel P. Fox Resigns On Mediation Board

LANSING—(P)—The executive officer said today that Noel P. Fox, chairman of the State Labor Mediation Board, had submitted his resignation to Governor Williams.

The resignation, the office said, would be accepted and Fox's name would be withdrawn from consideration by the Senate. He was appointed to the post in July, 1949, but has been one of a group of 26 Democrats serving without confirmation.

Fox wrote the governor that he has "spent a great deal of time in public service at considerable financial sacrifice," and feels that "I owe a duty to my family to return to the full active practice of law."

Baby 7 Weeks Old Has Tooth Pulled

GRAND RAPIDS—(P)—Nora Lee Hooks is only seven weeks old but already she's been to see her dentist to have a tooth extracted.

Her mother, Mrs. Harnley Hooks, said that a week ago Nora Lee started cutting a lower front tooth which slanted toward the back of her mouth and irritated her tongue.

On advice of the family doctor the tooth was extracted last night.

Egg Truck Scrambled In Lansing Accident

LANSING —(P)—The shoulder of US-16 near here sported the biggest order of scrambled eggs you ever saw today.

An egg truck, driven by Stanley Kelis, 22, of Holland crashed broadside into a tree at the side of the road when he fainted at the wheel.

State police said at least 75 percent of the 17,000 dozen eggs on the way to Detroit were broken.

Add whole kernel corn (drained) to pancake batter, bake on griddle as usual and serve with maple-flavored syrup and lots of hot coffee.
